FORT LEE, N.J. -- A Spring Valley beverage driver opened Fort Lee hotel room windows and took cellphone photos of naked couples having sex, said authorities -- who believe he's done it elsewhere in Bergen and Rockland counties

COUNTIES.

Fort Lee police responding to complaints from the Skyview Motel on Bergen Boulevard identified the getaway SUV as belonging to 54-year-old Nachman Breier, Detective Capt. Patrick Kissane said.

The vehicle had a New York Volunteer Ambulance Service license plate, he said.

One guest told police that Breier "opened the window of his room and took pictures with a cell phone while he and his wife were naked in the room" around 5:30 a.m. last Wednesday, Kissane said.

Two other guests said they "were engaged in sexual activity when [someone] opened the window to their room and moved the curtain to the side," the captain added.

The intruder then reached in and tried to snap some shots but took off when discovered, Kissane said.

Breier was charged with invasion of privacy and released on a court summons.

Anyone with information about similar incidents possibly involving Breier was asked to contact the Fort Lee Police Detective Bureau: (201) 592-3510.
